“The light shines in the darkness,
and the darkness did not

Make Me an Instrument of Thy Peace

"In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God."

If you're of a certain age, then you remember those inspiring youth musicals sung in many a church across America during the 1970s. One of the more popular ones was "Celebrate Life" by Buryl Red and Ragan Courtney in 1972.

It tells the story of Jesus from birth to death to Resurrection. The narrator opens by reciting John 1:1-5, "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. He was in the beginning with God. All things came into being through him, and without him not one thing came into being. What has come into being in him was life, and the life was the light of all people. The light shines in the darkness, and the darkness did not overcome it."

The story progresses from there through a combination of dialogue and songs; songs that more than 50 years later still resonate with their depth of thought, transformative message, and, of course, the lyrics.

Each of the songs builds off the one before it to present the account of Jesus' ministry as He fulfilled the will of His Father to bring salvation to His people.

Through it all is the underlying message of peace and hope. In fact, the word "peace" is the most repeated word in "Celebrate Life." It is a reminder that no matter what is going on in the world, there is a peace that surpasses all understanding.

Our Lord's first obedience was to the will of His Father, not the needs of the people; their salvation would be the natural outcome of His obedience. So, when we turn to Him, as is so beautifully written in "I Quietly Turn to You," we see "the peace, the joy, the hope that perfect love could be." We see the One who is "hope of the hopeless, friend of the friendless...and suddenly, warmth and love and joy were shining through me."

While you think the musical would end with the joyful "Easter Hymn" proclaiming that He Is Alive, we hear one last song, "Prayer for Peace." Its lyrics present a straightforward message; a message that today, as when Jesus walked the earth, encourages us to do as He did... "Make me an instrument of thy peace, Lord. Where there is hatred, let me sow love. Where there is injury, pardon; Doubt, faith; Despair, hope; Darkness, light; Sadness, joy." Let us be instruments of His peace.

In Remembrance of Him!

Kenya

“And we know that in all things God works for the good of those who love him, who have been called according to his purpose.”

- Romans 8:28

Creating Agricultural Sustainability

Cabbage, corn, and onions are the food staples in Kenya. One of the most recent success stories from our partners in Kenya is the harvesting of crops from farms to support different programs.

Some of these programs include helping orphans, vulnerable children and families while providing food relief and community development opportunities, as well as women's empowerment endeavors.

◆ Seed Package Project - $10 per pkg.

Seminars about best agricultural practices have introduced more sustainable methods to family farming. As a result, entire families are now living without assistance because they are able to grow enough food to feed their families while also being able to sell the additional produce grown for income.

◆ Goats for the Elderly Project - $100 per goat

This project has proven to be effective for senior adults in different ways. Not only does the goat provide milk for them, but it also creates a sense of purpose for them as they have the responsibility of tending to the goat.

Access To Clean Water

Access to fresh, clean water is still a challenge for many families. With no water line to connect their house to, they are forced to walk long distances just to get whatever water they can carry. This “water tank/guttering” combination system will catch rain water and store it so they can have direct access from their homes..
